Within any group of people, large, medium, or small, when No Real Truth prevails, in the end, facism, and worse, prevails.

Within any group of people, large, medium, or small, when Singular Accuracy prevails, in the end, excellent health and vitality for all prevails.

There are, and can be, no exceptions.

The reason is simple. If a person decides what's true, based on their anxieties or securities going up or down, then, whoever is most prepared to hurt them, and thus manipulate their fears - "set-'em up/knock-'em-down/sooth-'em" - will control their anxieties going up and down, and the harming manipulator's promises and protection, will make the person feel like what the harmer/protector is promoting, and protecting, must be true, accurate, the way things are. You get along.

Under that circumstance, the person who would NEVER harm you, has no power; is, necessarily disregarded, even abandoned, and destroyed. Especially if they are a threat to the manipulator being the only game in town. When accuracy is determined via anxiety or securities, the bullies always win. Always.

Only when conclusions regarding accuracy are made on the basis of cognition, and critical, comprehensive, singular accuracy, regardless of anxieties or securities, will helpful, accurate conclusions be drawn.
